

at least advisable to have a schedule of it appended either to Antenuptial Contract or Marriage Settlement.
I sincerely trust you both are keeping up, — I shall try to do so, though I cannot conceal that I am not quite so well today as yesterday.
But I must conclude. I shall come up in a cab, which will be at Loui's disposal if she should want it, but she must do nothing prayer, except she is thoroughly fit

fit for it. I dare say I with the servant's might now bring the house in order though not nicely, — yet you would not mind that,
so that we only spare Loui's strength.
Tom is waiting. So

My Darling — I am grieved to hear that Loui' is so poorly, and if we only knew her ^{To be} well, we could easily bear the delay, which I am afraid even that tiresome legal business will require.
I trust you can give me a couple of hours at half past nine. I suppose you have some papers with you, which specify the nature & of your property, — as I believe it will be necessary, or
